Test Item	Test Method	Test Result	Rating
6.1	General safety requirements
	Components or parts of the furniture with which the user may come into contact during normal use shall have no burrs and/or sharp edges, nor shall there be any open-ended tubes.	No burrs/ sharp edges/ open-ended tubes.	P
	All movable parts accessible during normal use shall have safety distances in any position during movement of ≤ 8 mm or ≥ 25 mm. This applies to any elements moving relatively to each other, with the exception of doors, flaps and extension elements including their hardware. The safety distances also apply to the distance between handles/ handgrips and other parts.	No shear squeeze.	P
	In order to avoid pinching points for feet, the safety height for vertically moving units shall be at least 100mm from the floor.	No vertical moving units.	NA
	All extension elements whose total mass (according to 6.2.3) exceeding 10 Kg but where safety tests are not required (see 6.2) shall have effective open stops, i.e. they shall resist being pulled out of the unit once by a horizontal force of 200 applied to the handle of the loaded extension element, or they shall be supplied with product information to this effect.	No extension elements.	NA
	Any external, vertical glass component ≥ 0.1 m ² in area, where the smallest dimension is greater than or equal to 200mm and any part of which is less than 900mm above the floor, shall not break when test according to EN14072, or shall break as specified in EN14072:2003, clause 7, C.2 or C.3.	No glass component.	NA
	In order to prevent children's heads and necks from being entrapped by lids of storage units, all storage units or storage areas within storage furniture, which are closed by a horizontal lid that is 1000mm or less from and weights 0.25kg or more shall be fitted with a means of preventing closure under a force less than 8N, e.g. a self locking stay or a friction stay. In the case of friction stays, product information shall be correct adjustment of the closing friction.	No horizontal lid.	NA
	No unloaded shelf shall tip when a downwards vertical force of 100N is applied to any point 25mm in front the front edge.	No tip over occurred under 100N.	P
	All roll fronts and doors sliding vertical including those constructed from hinged elements shall not move by themselves from any position higher than 200mm measured from the closed position if this can cause any injury.	No roll fronts and doors.	NA

6.2	Principles of safety requirements
6.2.1	General The following safety requirements are base upon the knowledge that kitchen unit and domestic storage furniture and their components are likely to cause serious injury only when they are heavy and fall through a significant distance. Therefore, with the exception of vertical glass components (6.5) and stability (6.6), the test methods and requirements specified in 6.3 are only applicable to loaded units and components whose centre of gravity is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - At or above 900mm from the floor and whose total mass equals or exceeds 10kg; or - At or above 350mm and whose total mass equals or exceeds 35kg. The requirements and test methods for the stability (6.6) apply only to storage units, where the height to the top of the unit exceeds 600mm, and when the multiplication of the height of the centre of the gravity in m and the total mass in kg exceeds the value 6.	Height of centre of gravity: 550mm >350mm Area of shelf: 4.6x3.0=13.8dm² Total mass: 0.65x13.8x4+11=46.88kg Requirements in clause 6.3 were applicable. Value: 0.55x46.88=25.78>6 Requirements in clause 6.6 were applicable.	/
6.2.2	Determination of centre of gravity The centre of gravity of a component or unit shall be taken as the geometric centre of that unit, except in the case of extension elements, where the geometric centre of the usable volume shall be used.
6.2.3	Determination of total mass The total mass is the mass of the component or unit plus the mass supported by it. Unless conspicuously and durably marked by the manufacturer with a maximum load, the mass of the contents shall be determined according to Table 1, which specifies load per unit area for shelves and the load per unit volume for extension elements and baskets. Table 1 — Loads <table border="1" data-bbox="236 1574 924 1744"> <thead> <tr> <th>Component</th> <th>Load</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>All horizontal storage areas, including shelves, bottoms, tops and flaps</td> <td>0,65 kg/dm²</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Extension elements and fixed baskets</td> <td>0,2 kg/dm³</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Clothes rails</td> <td>4 kg/dm</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Suspended filing pockets</td> <td>2.5 kg/dm³</td> </tr> </tbody> </table> <small>^a Measured perpendicular to the plane of the filing pockets.</small>			Component	Load	All horizontal storage areas, including shelves, bottoms, tops and flaps	0,65 kg/dm ²	Extension elements and fixed baskets	0,2 kg/dm ³	Clothes rails	4 kg/dm	Suspended filing pockets	2.5 kg/dm ³

6.3	Specific safety requirements and test methods		P
6.3.1	General The test methods and requirements in 6.3.2 to 6.3.8 apply only to units and components, which fall under principles in 6.2.		/
6.3.2	Shelves		P
6.3.2.1	General Shelves shall not fall down when tested as specified in 6.3.2.2.and 6.3.2.3	Meet requirement	P
6.3.2.2	Under horizontal force Apply a horizontal outwards force of 50% of the weight of the unloaded shelf to the middle of the front edge.		P
6.3.2.3	Under vertical force Apply a vertical downward force of 100N to any point 25mm in from the front edge.		P
6.3.3	Shelf supports For units with an indeterminate number of shelves, unless otherwise specified, divide the internal height of the article in mm by 200 and take the nearer integer. This number minus 1 shall then be the number of shelves to be installed. Load the shelves to be tested uniformly with the load specified in Table 1, except at 220 mm from one support, where the impact plate (5.8) shall be tipped over 10 times at a point as close to the support as possible (see Figure 2). The striking surface shall be that faced with rubber. All supports of the shelf shall be tested. After the test, the shelf and the shelf supports shall show no fracture or other damage that can affect the safety.	Meet requirement	P

6.6	Stability
6.6.1	General The stability tests in 6.6.2 and 6.6.3 shall be carried out with the unit placed on the sloping floor surface (5.1) in any direction relative to the unit most likely to cause the unit to overturn (See 4.1). Units designed to be placed against the wall shall not be tested in the rearwards direction. Castors shall be in the position most likely to cause the unit to overturn.		/
6.6.2	Free-standing kitchen floor units with worktops		NA
6.6.3	All other storage units		NA
6.6.4	Floor standing unit intended to be attached to the building The unit shall be mounted according to the manufacturer's installation instructions and unloaded. Apply a horizontal outwards force of 200 N to the middle of the front edge of the top of the unit. The force shall be maintained for not less than 10 s and not more than 15 s.
